Step-by-Step instructions for creating a Collegeboard account and getting your test scores

Go to www.collegeboard.org

You must have an account to get your test scores!

A blue banner for the College Board website. On the left, a circular image shows four students with backpacks walking away on a path. On the right, the text "College Starts Here" is displayed in white. Below it, the text "Sign in to personalize your visit." is shown. There are two input fields: "Username" and "Password". To the right of the "Password" field is a yellow "Sign In" button. Below the input fields, there are two links: "Don't have an account? Sign up" and "Forgot username or password?". A black arrow points from the "Forgot username or password?" link towards the "Sign up" link.

Account Help

Why create an account?

With a College Board account, you can access your SAT and AP scores online, and send them to colleges. You can also register for the SAT and CLEP exams, and print your SAT Admission Ticket or CLEP Registration Ticket. Additionally, an account lets you manage your personal college list, save your scholarship searches, compare costs at colleges that interest you, and more.

If your scores do not automatically show up, click "add scores"

- Re-enter your password to verify your identity
- Scroll down to the address section and fill in your home address
- Scroll to the bottom and click "update"
- You should now have your score report! Keep going in this presentation to learn how to read your score report.

How to read your scores

First you see your 3 main scores: Total score, Evidence-Based Reading and Writing, and Math.

Score ranges vary by test -

SAT: 400-1600 total, 200-800 for each section

PSAT 10: 320-1520 total, 160-760 for each section

PSAT 8/9: 240-1440 total, 120-720 for each section

Click "View Details" for more specific score information

SAT: Want to know how this score compares to the ACT? You can find a score converter here. Convert to the old SAT, then click "Show ACT Scores Comparison"

Report Details

Benchmarks: Collegeboard has designated benchmark scores that indicate a level of college readiness. You can see if your section scores meet or exceed benchmark levels.

Percentiles: Percentiles show you how your scores compare to other students who took the test.

You have 2 percentiles: National Representative and User

- National Representative shows your score compared to ALL students in the country who took the test
- User percentile shows your score compared to students in the country who take the test by choice, not because they have to take it

Example: a 50th percentile score means you scored the same or better than 50% of test takers in that percentile group.

Test Questions (PSAT 8/9 and 10 only)

This section allows you to see answers for each sections of the test. Information in this section includes:

- # of questions answered correctly or incorrectly
- Exact questions you got right or wrong
- Difficulty level of each question
- Type of skill that the question is measuring

PSAT 10 – you get to have your test booklet back. This makes a great study tool for the PSAT/NMSQT and the SAT!

Skills Insight

This section allows you to see scores for each individual section of the test (Reading, Writing & Language, Math, and Essay for the SAT)

Along with scores, you also see what skills you are likely able to already do and what to focus on in order to improve your skills.

The screenshot shows a user interface for 'Skills Insight' in the 'Writing and Language' section. The interface is divided into three main columns: 'Reading', 'Writing and Language', and 'Math'. The 'Writing and Language' column is currently selected and highlighted in blue. On the left side of the 'Writing and Language' column, there is a box labeled 'Your Score'. The main content area of the 'Writing and Language' column is split into two sections. The left section, titled 'Your score indicates that you are already likely able to:', lists four skills with a 'COE' (Consistent Overlap Extension) indicator. The right section, titled 'Improve your skills by focusing on the following suggestions:', lists two suggestions for improvement. The 'Reading' and 'Math' columns are currently empty.
